

Environmental Policy by Mikropakk Plastics Processing & Tool Manufacturing, Ltd.

Mikropakk Kft.'s main profile is the development, manufacturing, assembly and sale of plastic products. In parallel with this the company, while considering financial and technical aspects, takes responsibility for the continuous improvement of the environment friendly characteristics of its products and manufacturing sites, as well as the environment friendly management of natural resources at both plants. As a modern enterprise Mikropakk Ltd. considers environmental protection to be a strategic production factor, since in the newest phase of industrial competition society expresses increasing sensitivity for environmental protection. Technological solutions are in the focus, which result in material and energy savings simultaneously with the reduction of the emission of pollutants. Our company undertakes these challenges. With its environmental protection activity it contributes to the protection of natural resources and human health. For the achievement of our goals the involvement of technical knowledge as well as the creativity and motivation of our staff are indispensable.

The below described environmental protection principles reflect Mikropakk's environmental protection philosophy:

- Mikropakk's executives are responsible for compliance with the environmental protection principles as well as for the functionality of the environmental management system. The system's suitability and expediency are regularly reviewed and updated according to need.
- Our company informs, trains and motivates all of its employees in accordance with their environmental protection functions, thereby facilitating the development of their sense of responsibility for the environment.
- Mikropakk's express goal is to evaluate and prevent environmental impacts in all areas of its operation. Accordingly, compliance with environmental protection laws and regulations is a matter of course.
- At our company research and development are parts of our environmental protection policy. Together with our suppliers and service providers, our company develops ecologically efficient processes for its products. We pay special attention to the environmental protection performance of our suppliers. In addition to financial goals it's an important requirement and expectation for new products to have reduced environmental impact.

For the sake of reducing its environmental impact Mikropakk Ltd. sets the following goals:

- increasing the ratio of plastic and other waste recycling,
- increasing energy-efficiency, energy saving,
- involvement of the staff, further development of environmental protection training,
- intensifying preventive activities in the area of waste management.
